Memorial Drive Ministries (MDM) is one of CPC's major partner organizations supported through the Mission Committee, with Anne Blankenship serving as a member of their Board of Directors. They provide a wide range of services to refugees in the area—with numerous opportunities for volunteer services. MDM's Executive Director David Roth will provide an overview of the organization's work along with information on how members of Central can become actively involved in their work. Located in the most diverse square mile in North America, MDM is a church-based non-profit that fosters diverse worshipping communities, innovative social services, and transformative relationships, nurtures a safe, collaborative, and welcoming environment for the vibrant ministries that call the Memorial Drive campus home. In the community trust, location, and campus of the historic Memorial Drive Presbyterian Church, MDM convenes critical leadership, organization, and a wide network of loving neighbors to create a new expression of God's Beloved Community.

In addition to David's presentation, we will have an update on our partnership with Haiti, provided by Bede Campbell. Bede will share how our friends in Haiti are able to keep moving forward even with the very difficult situation in that country.

Join Central as we participate in Pride weekend

Centralites attend Morgan Forum

Roggio is the director of 1946: The Mistranslation That Shifted Culture, the documentary film that was shown and discussed at the Forum.

The annual conversation about the past, present, and future of the Bible takes place at Pitts Theology Library at Emory University. Started in 2023, in connection with Pitts Theology Library's establishment of the J. Michael Morgan English Bible & Psalmody Collection, this annual event brings together biblical scholars, translators, collectors, and the general public to consider the impact of the Bible on the church and culture and to learn from one of the world's premier collections of English Bibles.

Morgan was Organist Emeritus at Central for many years and an integral part of the church's fabric before his death.

At a recent Down Yonder Parish gathering, Greg Kershner devoted time to teaching Central children how to fish.

Central Women

October 17

Details TBD

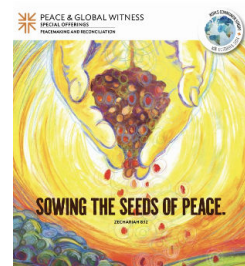

Many of you have asked about when Central Women will meet this month. In keeping with good Presbyterian doctrine, thoughts about Central Women have been forming and ever-reforming since our meeting last May. No decisions have been reached and input is needed from all who are interested.

As a result, we will not meet this month but invite you all to mark your calendars and attend a meeting on Thursday, October 17, our traditional third Thursday meeting time. Details TBD but, in the meantime, be thinking about your vision for this group, if and/or how we should proceed, and whether you would like to help facilitate the meetings moving forward.

Be on the lookout for more specific information as the month continues. Hope to see many of you on October 17. - The Rev. Kate Culver

FALL

CLASSES

BY ROBERT CATTERALL

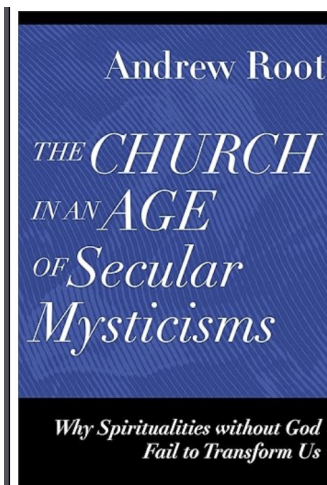

Another fall, and another set of compelling, thought-provoking and enriching adult learning offerings for Centralites.

Issues in Theology
Sundays
Greene Room
9:45 to 10:45 a.m.

This class will pick back up on its discussion of Andrew Root's "The Church in an Age of Secular Mysticism." Following a few weeks exploring that topic, the class will announce an updated curriculum.

Click here for more about the book.

Sojourners Class
Brotherhood Room

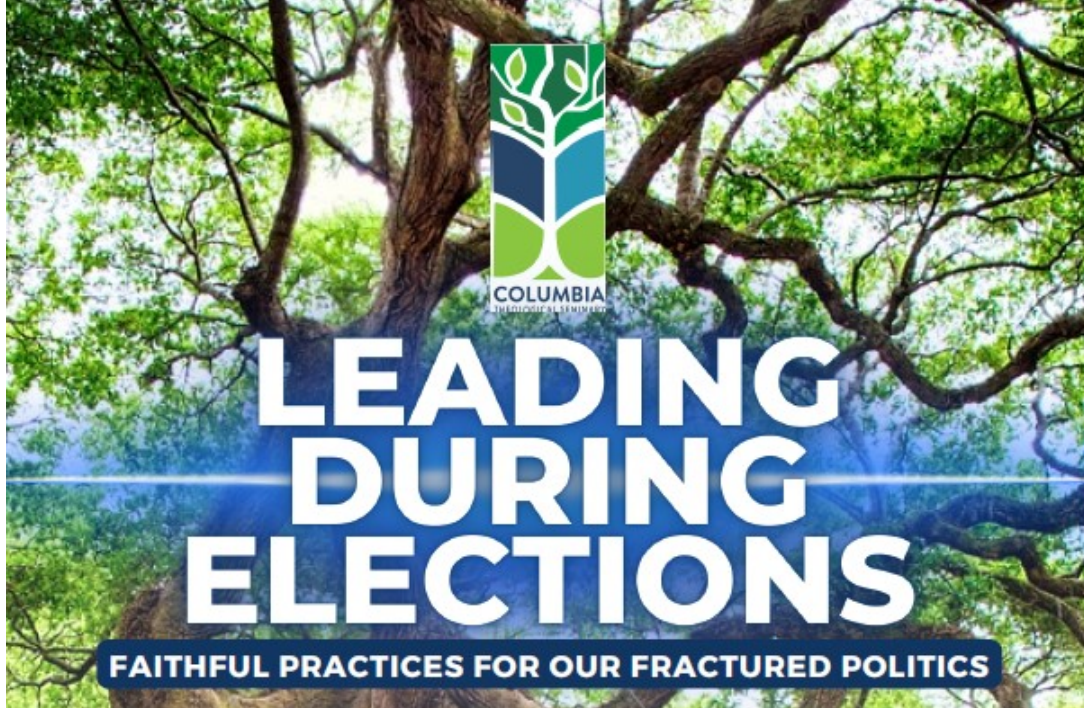

9:45 to 10:45 a.m.

The Sojourners class will return to the brief but powerful essays on Jesus' life and teachings found in Debie Thomas' book, Into the Mess and Other Jesus Stories: Reflections on the Life of Christ. Thomas focuses particularly on teachings of Jesus and events in the life of Jesus that present challenges in understanding and interpretation, and she acknowledges these challenges and provides her own refreshingly candid thoughts and associated questions for consideration. The "Wonders" and "Teachings" sections of the book have provided a basis for rich discussion in past class sessions.

This fall, the class will turn its attention to Thomas' essays in the category that she calls "Mysteries," covering Jesus' washing of the Disciples' feet, the crucifixion, the empty tomb, and more. Join us for conversations about Jesus' life and teachings that perhaps will be different from many you've had before. The Sojourners Class meets in the Brotherhood Room, off of Tull Hall. The class convener is Ed Carwile (carwile1230@earthlink.net).

Rev. Nibs Stroupe: She Made a Way
Sunday, October 20
Details TBD

On two Sundays at the end of October, Rev. Nibs Stroupe will join Central to teach and preach. On October 20, he will teach a combined adult class based on his most-recent book, "She Made a Way: Mother and Me in a Deep South World." Described as "a memoir of survival and growth under the twin threats of white supremacy and male dominance. It is an intimate story of perseverance and coming of age: how a single, white working mother and her only son made their way in the patriarchal and racist world of postwar Helena, Arkansas, a Mississippi river town." Central member John Blake wrote the forward to the book. The next Sunday, October 27, Rev. Stroupe will be our guest preacher.

Join other faithful citizens at Columbia Seminary's Center for Lifelong Learning event, Leading During Elections, a live panel of faith and thought leaders who will discuss their own work in trying to shape richer and better politics both inside and beyond the walls of the church. This panel will meet on the evening of Thursday, October 3 in the Harrington Center Chapel, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Registration is required - please use the QR code below. Seating is limited and the panel will also be streamed for those who cannot come to campus for the evening. The panel consists of:

- Rev. Rebekah Close LeMon, the Senior Pastor at Trinity Presbyterian Church, Atlanta and the co-chair of Presbyterians for a Better Georgia;
- Rev. Dr. Gregory Eason, the pastor of Flipper Temple AME Church and Bishop-elect within the AME;
- State Senator Elena Parent; and
- Dr. Jennifer McCoy, Regent's Professor of Political Science at Georgia State University.

Columbia is also offering 20 different workshops/interviews on a variety of topics related to faith and politics via its Moodle site. You can register for the workshops and interviews with the QR code below.

Columbia invites you to register, to attend, to use the resources, and to share information about Leading During Elections widely. And we note that though the program is obviously geared towards U.S. citizens, there are many resources within it that are applicable to political settings outside the United States.

Humanitarian Response in Israel/Palestine

We have witnessed the millions of people caught in the middle of the devastating conflict between the government of Israel and Hamas. This humanitarian crisis is dire, and the loss of human life is unimaginable. Through Presbyterian Disaster Assistance (PDA), the Presbyterian Church (USA) is providing assistance to those most vulnerable and supporting partners in Palestine and Israel who are responding to the needs of their neighbors. Our biggest concern is the safety and care for those caught in the middle of this conflict and in need of humanitarian aid, no matter their religious beliefs, politics, or nationality.
